PACIFIC.

"What are clouds?" asks the Popular Science Monthly. Well, one kind is when you call to see your girl and find that the other fellow is in the parlor with her.—Trois American.

One of the mysterious things in this life is that when a man goes around with his hands outstretched, hunting for a door in the dark, he generally strikes it with his nose.—Commercial Advertiser.

The name of Maria is so popular in Ottumwa, that when a cat climbs a fence in a well populated neighborhood and plaintively vocalizes "Maria!" twenty windows are hastily thrown up and twenty heads are thrust out, wildly answering, "Is that you, Charley?"

Barber to customer, who, awaiting his turn to be shaved, is fanning himself vigorously with a copy of The New York Herald:—"There are plenty of fans lying around the shop; why don't you use one instead of that newspaper?" Customer—"Because there's more 'wind' in this paper."—The Judge.

Fortune, it is said, knocks once at every man's door. This may be true; but in the majority of cases she sneaks around and taps at the back door, then swoots off across lots before the householder can realize that she has just missed a charming chance of becoming a blooming bloated bondholder.—Commercial Advertiser.

The dog and the baby.—Mrs. Van Rensselaer—"Now, you are sure you have all the needs for the journey?" His cup and his pillow, his saucer for milk and the biscuit? Maid—"Oui, madame. (And then with a relapse into brogue and some anxiety.) An' how about the baby, mum?" Mrs. Van R—"Oh, her father has her. It is as much as I can do to look after Bijou."—Our Continent.

"Yes," said the gentleman who wanted to join the crack volunteer regiment, "I went all through the war, and have the documents to show a first class record. I'm six feet and one inch high, sound as a nut, know the manual of arms and am posted on military tactics." "Yes," said the commandant, "these qualifications are no objection, but what waltz step do you dance?"—Boston Post.

Art, as it finds expression in the columns of Western newspapers, is sometimes confusing. "Mother," asked a pupil of an Iowa public school, picking up a country journal and pointing to an engraving that covered the greater part of the front page, "Is that a map of the moon?" "No, my child," she responded; "that is a picture of Gutenberg's execution."—Brooklyn Eagle.

"What a methodical fellow you are, Brown!" said Filkins, who had stepped into Brown's office during the latter's absence. "Why, what do you mean?" asked Brown, who had just entered. "Mean?" echoed Filkins, "to think that you should lock all your drawers up when you are only going out for five minutes! 'Tisn't likely anybody would meddle with your papers." "Of course not," replied Brown; "but how did you find out that the drawers were locked?"

At a German church a new organist had been engaged who was fond of adding some improvisations to every piece he played. On the first Sunday, when he had finished the "Gloria," he wished to add a few bars of his own, but the blower suddenly ceased to work. "Go on," the organist cried angrily; "don't you see I am still playing?" "Playing, indeed," said the blower. "I have been in this business for the last thirty years and I know just exactly how much wind is required for a 'Gloria.' I don't see why you should have any more than your predecessor."—Fliegende Blätter.

T. T. HAYDOCK,

WHOLESALE

Carriage Manufacturer.

Cor. Plum and 12th Sts.,

CINCINNATI, OHIO.

This firm is now in its sixth year of existence, and the rapid and permanent growth it has made is something unprecedented in the history of carriage building. Its permanency and growth have been accomplished, not by any special effort at "drumming" the trade, but by the excellence of the work produced, and by the low price at which this work has been sold. Another great feature of its success is in the style of the work produced. It is too often the case that in low priced work the style is correspondingly low or common in appearance. But all goods manufactured by T. T. Haydock are made in a stylish and artistic manner, thus adding beauty to quality. This firm does not build the lowest grade, nor the lowest priced work in the market by any means, but is making a specialty of a medium grade full leather top buggy at a very low price for the quality; and is offering special inducements to the trade to buy in large quantities.
